

July Acting Workshops

with Drama Director, Leland Williams

These are highly focused classes offering a lot in a short period of time. Class size will be limited to the first eight students who register. Classes that do not meet the minimum enrollment are subject to cancellation.

In Five: A Door, a Doll and a Duck Playwriting Workshop

July 11 - 14 • 4:30 to 6:30pm • ages 9-17 • $80

In this short workshop production your child will be given three props: a door, a doll and a duck plus a line from a famous movie. Then, through a series of improvisational games, acting techniques and painless writing exercises, your talented child will write a short (approx. five minute) play or monologue using costumes, set pieces and all the ingenuity and imagination they can muster! All this in four short days! Don't miss out on this exciting and new workshop.

July 18 - 22, 9:30am - 12pm Ages 13 & up, $160

Find your mark! Explore the unique techniques required for acting in front of the camera with Fineline Theatre Director Leland Williams. This class is a must for young actors serious about expanding their craft into the world of television and film.

Whose Line—I mean Whose Turn is it Anyway? Improv Workshop

Wednesday, July 6 & Thursday, July 7 • 4 to 6pm • $60

Have you ever acted out being a home shopping network personality selling useless items? Ever acted out a scene where you had to use other actors as props? How about a scene where you can only speak in questions or sing in a made-up language while you imagine yourself stranded on the top of a mountain? If you answered yes to any of these questions than your life is exceptionally interesting. If you answered no to any of these questions then come test your wit, speed and creativity in Fineline's Improv Workshop. Come learn the rules of the ancient art of Improv. (Isn't everything before story telling improv?) The thought of caveman doing improv is funny. That could be an improv! Come join this class filled with laughs, skill and imagination.

Auditioning Techniques

Thursday, July 14 • 2 to 4pm • $30

Auditioning can be a daunting task. No matter how great of an actor you are, a bad audition will not get you the job (or the role you want in your school play). Come explore the craft of auditioning in this short workshop. Cold readings, preparation, relaxation and choice making will be just some of the topics touched upon.
